

This week our story focus was The Little Red Hen. The children thoroughly enjoyed listening to the story, joining in with repeated phrases and talking about the characters. We explored the story through a range of exciting activities that encouraged creativity, communication and the development of fine motor skills.

Our creative activities included making handprint hens, where the children used paint to create colourful handprints before turning them into their very own Little Red Hens. They also enjoyed decorating their own hens using a variety of craft materials, making each one unique and developing their creativity and independence.

The children had great fun creating their own Little Red Hen using paper plates, felt and other craft resources. This activity encouraged them to practise cutting, sticking and placing different materials while strengthening their fine motor skills. During our playdough activity, the children enjoyed moulding and shaping the dough into different creations inspired by the story, helping to develop hand strength and coordination.

Our sensory water play was a wonderful opportunity for the children to explore, investigate and learn through their senses. They loved pouring, scooping and splashing the water while developing their communication, social skills and understanding of different textures and materials.

It has been a fantastic week full of creativity, imaginative play and lots of opportunities for learning through our story-based activities. We are so proud of all the children's wonderful efforts and enthusiasm throughout the week.
